UNITED STATES MAIL BAGS IN CANADA.-An investigation by agents of the Post Office department has developed the fact that most of the mail bags used in Canada are the property of the United States. They have gone across the border with the through mails, and have then been devoted to the local mail service. A plan for the assorting and interchange of stray mail bags has been proposed by Postmaster General James and assented to by the Canadian au-

CASUALTIES TO STEAM VESSELS THE LAST FIS-CAL YEAR -Gen. Dumont, supervising inspector of steam vessels, is having prepared a record of casualties during the past fiscal year. The work will be completed in about a week. It will show that omitting the Vera Cruz and Alpena disasters, there were fewer casualties from July 1st. 1880, to June 30th, 1881, than for any 12 months preceding since the introduction of steam into navigation. The Vera Cruz was wrecked on the Florida coast, and the Alpena on Lake Erie. They were both as far perfect in construction and equipment as it is possible build steamers, but could not withstand the furious storms in which they were caught. No inspection nor anything else could have saved them. Both of these disasters occurred in the first six months of 1880-81. The last six months of that fiscal year show by far fewer casualties than for any preceding six

THE PROPOSED SUNDAY SCHOOL JUBILEE. Prof. Widdows is enthusiastic over the proposed thanksgiving jubilee by the Sunday school children in the White House grounds. He claims to have originated the idea. He plans to have the children of all colors assemble in proper organizations in the grounds; the white schools on one side and the colored on the other with the Marine band between them. Then the white and colored schools could sing separately and in grand chorus together. He wants the thing to be spontaneous-without any previous arrangement being made with the President. LAST EVENING'S BULLETIN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, August 2, 7 p.m.—The resident has continued to progress favorably during the day, and appears perceptibly better in his general condition than yesterday, a more natural tone of voice being especially perceptible. The appearance of the external wounds at the evening dressing was exceedingly good. That made by the ball is rapidly granulating, while the discharge from the deeper portion of the wound, which is abundant and healthy, comes through the counter opening made by operation. The rise of temperature this afteroon is moderate and attended by no inconvenience to the patient. At present his pulse is 104, temperature 100; respiration 20. DISPATCH FROM THE INTERNATIONAL Y. M. That Yellow Dog,

HIS CLAIMS TO A BULLET-IN—THEY ARE SCOUTED BY THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

There is a comic side to every tragedy. Even the sadness thrown over the country by the shooting down of the President has been relieved by a grim sort of comedy. It is about the yellow dog. That ublquitous animal has again appeared. This time he comes forward, wagging his tail and exhibiting a ball lodged in his body,—which, it is claimed, is the odd bullet fired from Guiteau's pistol. A question of veracity is raised between the dog and the glazier, who had evaled the police. Stewart and I. B. Parsons, Gunner G. R. Delty, Sailmaker J. S. Franklin. Lieut. Com. G., D. B. THE LAND BILL IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS. LONDON, August 3.-In the House of Lords last night Lord Selborne, lord high chancellor, said the land bill was fenced in with such safeguards as would prevent any undue interference with the rights of property. The bill would strengthen the moral power of the government for the enforcement of law. Lord Cairns (conservative) said the fact that the landlords are suffering more by the present disturbed state of affairs was due to the government's abnegation of its primary functions and the encouragement it had given to the agitation; but he was glad, under the circumstances, of the House not coming to an issue on the second reading of the bill, as important amendments in The Earl of Kimberley, colonial secretary, having replied to Lord Cairns, the second reading of the bill was adopted without a division, and mous opinion that legislation is necessary upon the lines of the government. Lord Denman (liberal) announced that he would move the rejection of the bill on going into committee, which was fixed for Thursday next.

The Daily News says the committee on the land bill in the House of Lords is not expected to extend over Friday the report, and the third reading will probably be taken on Monday, and the bill may reach the House of Commons on Tuesday. There is a strong feeling on the liberal benches below the gangway in favor of amnesty to the Irish prisoners on the occasion of passing the bill. Mr. Parnell's action on Monday checked this feeling, but it is likely to find formal expression before the House rises.

Detection of Frauds on the District Revenue CONTROLLER LAWRENCE'S DECISION.

Judge Lawrence, first controller of the Treasury department, has considered the question stated in a letter from the District Commissioners asking authority to use a sum of money not exceeding $3,000 for the detection of frauds upon the District revenues during the present fiscal year, out of either the contingent fund or the item of miscellaneous expenses. Judge Lawrence refers to the fact that Congress in appropriating $18,000 for the expenses of the assessor's office evidently intended that that appropriation should include services for detecting frauds upon the revenue. It would seem that Congress contemplated the possibility of a reduction of the clerical force of the assessor's office. It only abolished the office of the assessor, and devolved the duties of that office upon the assessor. It would seem to be proper that the Commissioners should ascertain what reductions can be made in the clerical and other force of the assessor's office, and then they can ascertain about the amount which would remain of the amount of $18,000 for the detection of frauds on the revenue. Until that is done it would not seem to be necessary to make any further decision on the subject. Judge Lawrence calls attention to the fact that the police force appropriation contains an item for contingent expenses, embracing the detection of crime.
